APA (6th ed.) Citation Help Guide

Basic Format

For a detailed description on formatting a paper using the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), 6th edition, 2nd printing, see pages 228-231. There is also a sample paper in the APA manual, which can be used as a visual reference, on pages 41-59. Formatting basics for APA include the following:

- Double spaced
- 1 inch margins
- Times New Roman font size 12
- Each page is numbered in top right corner of the header. Title Page is number 1 and includes the Running head: with the abbreviated title typed in all CAPS (American Psychological Association, 2009, p. 229).

All subsequent pages of the document will automatically be numbered and include the abbreviated title.
In-text Citing of Your References

APA requires writers to document their references—paraphrases and direct quotes—throughout the text of their paper (in-text citation). Also, writers must prepare a references page at the end of their paper which includes a more detailed reference citation of each source. The reference citations “…are listed alphabetically in the reference list” (APA, 2009, p. 174). Pay close attention to subtle formatting requirements, such as use of italics and location of punctuation marks. The basic format for an in-text citation includes author and date. If you have a direct quote you must also indicate the page number for the quoted material. For example:

Citation at the end of a paraphrase:

Citation at the end of a direct quote:
(Jones, 2005, p. 28).

Citation at the end of a large direct quote (<40 words):
A large quote must be set apart from the rest of the text, for example:

If the quotation comprises 40 or more words, display it in a freestanding block of text and omit the quotation marks. Start such a block quotation on new line and indent the block about a half inch from the left margin (in the same position as a new paragraph). If there are additional paragraphs within the quotation, indent the first line of each additional half inch. Double-space the entire quotation. At the end of a block quotation, cite the quoted source and the page or paragraph number in parentheses after the final punctuation mark. (APA, 2009, p. 171)

You must list all authors for each citation on the references page, unless there are more than seven authors. However, use the following guidelines for listing authors in an in-text citation (APA, 2009, pp. 174-175):

One  (Jones, 2005).
Two   (Jones & Doe, 2005).
Three to Five (Jones, Doe, & Black, 2005). List all authors first time, then (Jones et al., 2005).
Six or More (Jones et al., 2005). Only list first author for all in-text citations.

Sometimes the author is actually a group, such as “…corporations, associations, government agencies, and study groups…” and “…names of some group authors are spelled out in the first citation and abbreviated thereafter” (APA, 2009, p. 176). For example:

First time cited in text:
(centers for Disease Control and Prevention [CDC], 2013).
Subsequent times in text:
(CDC, 2013).
Sample Reference Citations—Books

“Entire Book” print (APA, 2010, p. 202), basic format:

Author Last Name, Author First Initial. Author Middle Initial. (Year). Title of work. Location: Publisher.

Example:

“Chapter in a Book or Entry in a Reference Book” (APA, 2010, p. 202), format:

Author Last Name, Author First Initial. Author Middle Initial. (Year). Title of book chapter or reference entry. In Editor’s First Name Initial. Editor’s Last Name, & Editor’s First Name Initial. Editor’s Last Name (Eds.), Title of book (pp. xx-xx). Location: Publisher.

Example:

Dictionary “…Entry in a reference work with no byline…” (APA, 2010, p. 203), example:

eBook “Electronic Version of Print Book” (APA, 2010, p. 203), example:

If the eBook has a doi number, use the doi number at the end of reference citation instead of retrieved from statement.
Sample Reference Citations—Periodicals

Journal Article—Basic Format

Author Last Name, Author First Initial. Author Middle Initial. (Year). Title of article.

Title of Periodical, Vol#(issue#), pages of article. doi

“Journal Article with DOI” (APA, 2009, p. 198), example:

doi:10.1128/JCM.01533-09

Print “Journal Article without DOI” (APA, 2009, p. 199), example:

“Journal Article without DOI from a Database…” only “…include the home page URL for the journal…” (APA, 2009, p. 198), example:

“Journal Article with DOI, more than seven authors” (APA, 2009, p. 198). List the first six authors, followed by an ellipsis, and then the last author’s name. Example:

“Secondary Sources” (APA, 2009, p. 178). In Text Citation, example:

Andreas Gruntzig’s observations (as cited in Weisfeldt & Zleman, 2007).

Reference Citation, example:

“Online Newspaper Article” (APA, 2009, p. 200), example:

“Magazine Article” (APA, 2009, p. 200), example:

Sample Reference Citations—Websites

Website—Basic Format:

Author Last Name, Author First Initial. Author Middle Initial. (Year). Title of work. Retrieved from URL

Website (group author is a government agency), example:

“Corporate Author, Government Report” (APA, 2009, p. 205), example:

Note: If a report number is available, list it directly after the title. For example:  (Report No. 21). See pages 205-206 of APA manual for more details.
“Informally Published or Self-archived Work” (APA, 2009, p. 212), example:

Sample Reference Citations—Other Resources

“Interview Recorded and Available in an Archive” (APA, 2009, p. 214), example:

“Personal Communication…private letters, memos, some electronic communications (e.g., e-mail or messages from nonarchived discussion groups or electronic bulletin boards…personal interviews…are not included in the reference page…cite personal communications in text only” (APA, 2009, p. 179), example:

J. M. Jones (personal communication, March 13, 2013)

Online Course Materials
If the instructor’s material is not available elsewhere, cite course material as Personal Communication (example is listed above).

Legal Materials
Due to intricacies of legal citations, please see pages 216-224 in the APA manual for details on citing legal resources.
